FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How is the Architectural Portfolio used?

Education facility professionals who receive American School & University design issues report that they have used them for the following:²

- To find an architect or view their work
- To learn about the latest innovations in education design
- To get ideas for their next project
- To see the latest educational facilities built in their region

How is it different than other competitions?

Not just a seasonal magazine, show display, or Web link, the Architectural Portfolio is part of a multi-media brand devoted to school and university design and facility planning. The audience who sees the Architectural Portfolio is not just a peer group, but your clients and potential clients — decision-makers in the education facilities market.

Is the Architectural Portfolio for K-12 or post-secondary projects?

AS&U has always been a magazine for administrators at every level, and the Architectural Portfolio showcases both K-12 and post-secondary projects. It is a competition for firms who do either (or both) type of work.

How will this competition benefit my firm?

Use the Architectural Portfolio to build your portfolio of awards, thank your clients, market your firm to new clients, or recognize staff.

I'm not with an architectural firm. Can I still enter?

Schools, builders, and other companies associated with the projects are welcome to enter their project. The competition is judged on the architectural merits of the project, and the entry should be done in conjunction with whomever did the architectural design.
